She has not, but I am fine either way, just being a fly on the wall or helping out. Good idea to get the new guys involved.

Claudia – I'm forwarding this fyi. You can probably be more than just a fly on the wall if you want to. I thought it would be good for the new guys to help with the registration desk duties. I also mentioned to Laura on Monday that you might like to be involved to some extent but not sure if she approached you with all the other helpers she appears to have.
